Pine Press to revamp its design

What do you want the Pine Press to include?

This is the issue that I have been considering since I was first elected Vice President of Education earlier this year.

What have I come up with?

The Pine Press layout could be much easier to navigate if it was divided into sections. These sections would provide the opportunity for members to jump exactly to the heart of the information they prefer.

Some sections ideas include: News, Music & Entertainment, Food, Comics/Horoscope/Crossword, Sports/Community, and an Editorials sections.

Each section would not be in every Pine Press, unless members began to submit articles at an unprecedented number.

However, the first issue of the month would include News, Food, and Sports/Community, and the alternate published newsletters would contain information related to the other issues.

When can I submit information?

Submissions for the Pine Press will be accepted on a rolling basis. Be aware that timely information only will be included. This means that you will want to take notice of which sections are to appear on which weeks.

Who do I submit articles to?

Currently, articles can be submitted via e-mail to coop@msu.edu. These will then be forwarded to Kelly Hoover.

Alternately, you can enter your submission on an IBM formatted disk as a Word, Publisher, or Excel file and place in the mailbox for Pine Press submissions in the SHC office.

Feel free to bring in your comics or artwork or own horoscope rendition, to the SHC office.

I am looking forward to viewing the accomplishments and other information that co-op members submit. Thank you for your continued support!

Co-op space still available for all your friends

Are you part of the Ultimate Frisbee team? Would you like to live with your teammates in a house with a playing field nearby? Perhaps Phoenix is the option for you.

Do you know someone who wishes to live near campus and downtown East Lansing in a large friendly house, but you don't have a car and do not want to pay extra money for a parking space you will not even use? Then take a look at Orion.

The message of this article is that if you are involved in a student group, or you know of a group of friends looking for a cheap, fun, campus friendly environment to live in, have them check out the co-ops!

There are still spaces available in many of our choice houses.

If you share a bathroom with females, be sure to put the toilet seat down! Even if the bathroom is for all males, don't neglect your female friend's casualties.

Corrections from May Issue

Shadowood is also known to the community as Sigma Pi, not OD. The printer could not access the proper font, but the newsletter went to press without correction. Sorry guys!

The Board of Directors included Rhee Byun as the board member for Elsworth. Call me dyslexic, but it should be ByungGil Rhee. For the record, just call him "Rhee."

Regarding the co-op mailboxes, there is no specific individual assigned to perform the tasks of taking the important mail to or from the office, therefore if you stop by, please take mail BACK to your house. If you are coming in, please also cart along the mail at your house!

Dates to keep in mind for this summer

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

First meeting down, six more to go! Become part of the decision process along with your house board rep.

Summer session meetings are Thursdays at 7 p.m. in 328A of Student Services.

June 7, 21

July 5, 19            August 2, 16

E-mail Megan Burt (President) with any questions or concerns at burtmega@msu.edu.

NEW MEMBER ORIENTATION

If you missed New Member Orientation, then you missed out on many of the reasons people choose co-ops, where exactly your money goes, and also a great spread from the Olive Garden!

E-mail Amber Bardon at: abardon@mindspring.com.

EDUCATION OFFICER TRAINING

If you are the Education Officer for your house, be sure to attend the Education Officer Member Training Tuesday, June 12, 2001, at BW3s. Contact Kelly Hoover, VPE, for more information.

OTHER

If you have an important date, let us know! E-mail coop@msu.edu.

How does YOUR garden grow?

Interested in adding more flavor to your meals? Interested in planting a vegetable garden, with financial assistance from the Lansing area?

Well, here's your opportunity to do all that and more!

The Garden Project of the Greater Lansing Food Bank offers:

- Free community garden plots
- Home garden rototilling for low-income households
- Free seeds, fertilizer, and plants

- Workshops, newsletters, and other gardening information

Enclosed with this newsletter is the 2001 Registration form to begin the process for planting your own garden.

Time and effort are big players in maintaining a garden for your home. Also, you will need to have enough space to plant a plot efficient for use for your household.

The sun must also hit that area for a good portion of the day in order to see any results.

Some of the vegetable options include tomatoes, peppers, squash, green beans, and even mustard.

Discuss this exciting option at your next house meeting!

If you have any other questions, be sure to call the Garden Project office at 887-4660.

Look for the 94 cent waffle cone offer from Baskin Robbins in the State News on the first Thursday of each month!
